U.W. campaign fails its goal

By SUSAN SIGNAIO-WEICH
of the Press-Record

A disappointed Tom Majewski, general campaign chairman for the United Way, announced Friday that the charity's fund-raising drive has fallen short of the $670,000 goal. The total amount collected was $551,027, or 82.2 percent of the objective.

"STANDING BEFORE you here today, and having to tell you that we did not reach our goal, is a pretty difficult pill to swallow," said Majewski. "But we will continue to follow through on every open account. We are not going to reach the $670,000 goal, but I believe we will break the $600,000 barrier."

He said that the agency expects to collect an additional $45,000 in pledges in the near future, to bring the total to 88.7 percent of goal. "I know we will be at that figure," he said.

Majewski said the original goal for this year was lower than $670,000.

"But we would have had to cut 10 percent from the agencies' budgets at a time when the need for the services was great. Paul Costello, our treasurer, said that to keep services at the current level, we would need the raise $670,000. We knew a $600,000 goal was attainable, but it was the $670,000 goal that was needed."

He said the charity needs to formulate a strategy for the coming years so that future goals will be attained.

UNITED WAY President Bill Terrell said workers should be "disappointed, but not discouraged" by the smaller amount of contributions. "The United Way exists, so you have done a good job."

He pointed to the hard economic times as a reason for the unmet goal. "These tough times will not last, but tough people will."

He also said that some of the volunteers had not worked as hard as had been hoped. "We'll make notes of which people let us down. Some people did not work throughout the campaign."

TOTALS FOR THE individual groups were as follows: Group A, private donors business and commercial, $67,197, or 79.1 percent of goal; Group B, professions and private non-profit agencies and organizations, $47,976, or 80 percent of their goal; Group C, government employees, schools, service clubs, $30,986, or 67.4 percent of their goal; and Group D, industry, construction and transportation, $404,868, or 93.5 percent of their goal.

Corporate and employee gold awards were given out at the final meeting. Those receiving awards included the Salvation Army, Schuck's Super Market, Coordinated Youth Services, Granite City Steel, the Granite City Steel Labor-Management Torch Club, American Heritage Bank, Precourt Metals, Heidman Steel and Granite City Center of Belleville Area College.

Brimberry trial delayed

By PAT HAYLUTZ
for the Press-Record

For the fourth time in six months, the perjury trial of former Stix Co. Vice President Thomas Brimberry of Granite City has been rescheduled. The trial to determine whether Brimberry allegedly lied to the grand jury during an investigation of the embezzlement of nearly $16 million from Stix and Co.

brokerage firm was to begin today, but has been postponed until March 5.

ORIGINALLY scheduled for Sept. 12, because of health complications of one of the family members of Defense Attorney Rodney DeVilliers, the trial was postponed until today, but sources indicate that the current postponement was granted.

Pay cuts rejected, 150 will lose jobs

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

Rejecting an estimated $6.50 hourly pay cut, about 150 United Steelworkers now face loss of their jobs in aluminum operations at the Consolidated Aluminum Corp. Madison plant.

Not affected at this time is the magnesium division of the big plant, whose history dates back to gun turret production during World War II. Magnesium workers' present agreement expires in April 1984.

CUSTOMERS ARE BEING notified that existing production orders will be filled but that no new aluminum orders will be accepted, Robert Hendricks told the Press-Record Friday.

Communications manager at the company's headquarters in St. Louis, Hendricks said it is impossible to predict the exact shutdown date. A spokesman at the local plant answered "no comment" to all questions. Financial losses are said to be occurring with the current volume of sales and production.

Rejection of the proposed wage reduction was by a narrow margin in secret balloting, Robert Means, Steelworkers' subdistrict director, said Friday in Granite City.

WORKERS WERE AWARE of the ramifications of their decision, but felt the extent of the cut was unacceptable, he added.

Saying that one of the problems was the short notice, about one week, Means related that negotia-

Port begins its 25th year

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Editor

What started as an idea of former Press-Record Editor C. E. "Corky" Townsend and became an inquiry to Attorney Randall Robertson has grown during the past 24 years into a port district here which handles $650 million worth of goods each year, those attending a special dinner in honor of the Tri-City Regional Port's upcoming 25th anniversary here were told.

ROBERTSON, master-of-ceremonies for the event, told those present that he remembers when Townsend came to him with the question whether this area could create a port authority. Robertson researched the question and found it was possible.

A group of interested citizens went to work on it and in March 1959, legislation was enacted creating the Tri-City Regional Port District, only the fourth regional port district in the state. The legislation was signed by Governor William G. Stratton April 1, 1959.

Officially, the 25th year of the port district will begin early next year, but Robertson explained that it was decided to hold the celebration now, before the holidays. The dinner at Charlie's Restaurant honored all former port board members and their wives.

ALL SURVIVING members of the original board, which first met in 1959, were present for the occasion. Original members honored were Carl Ranft, now port general manager (who served on the board from 1959 through 1966), and Henry Fischer (1959-1973 and 1977-1983), E.A. Karandjeff (1959-1978) and U.S. District Judge William Beatty (1959-1982).

Memories of the deceased original members, the late Harry Hartman, Austin Lewis and Joe Grant, also were exchanged.

Mr. Grant served from 1959 until his death in 1968. Mr. Lewis

Free downtown parking

The Granite City Council has approved free parking at the downtown city meters again this year for the month of December.

The request was made by the Downtown Promotion Committee of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce.

The council also paved the way for the arrival of Santa Claus by helicopter at 10 a.m. Saturday, Nov. 26, at First Granite City National Bank. A holiday parade will follow.

Mitchell area residents study creating police force

Contemplation of a proposed tax levy to support a police department in the Mitchell and Chouteau Township area was discussed at the second in a series of meetings by the residents, who are seeking a solution to a rash of home burglaries in that area.

SINCE GODFREY, Ill., has such a program with the homeowners supporting three police cars and providing up-to-date equipment for the officers, a representative from that department is to speak at the next meeting, scheduled for 7 p.m. Jan. 17 at the Chouteau Township Hall.

During the initial meeting Oct. 25, it was reported that 104 burglaries took place in Mitchell, with a population of 5,198, from June 1 until the middle of August of this year.

In comparison, Madison, which has 5,301 residents, experienced 15 house or apartment burglaries in a three-month period. During August there were seven, September six and October two.

GRANITE CITY (population 36,000) reported 144 house burglaries from June 1 to Aug. 31 and 78 during the months of September and October.

The general opinion of the Mitchell residents is that the persons arrested for burglary are not prosecuted to the letter of the law, but, in fact, are released after paying a fine or they are put on probation. This system puts the suspected criminal back on the street to repeat the crime, even before the householder has time to recoup from the first invasion of his home.

A DETECTIVE from the Madison County Sheriff's Department spoke again on protection against invasion. He gave an in-depth talk on locks on windows and doors and clearing away shrubs and trees around a house that gives invaders a place to hide from view while trying to enter a house.

This does not guarantee that your house is safe from entry, but it does make it more difficult for the burglar to get in and, hopefully, a neighbor or passerby will notice the attempt and report the incident to the police," the detective said.

The first public meeting was arranged by Mrs. Donna Thomas and Mrs. Jeannine Stefanoff, both Mitchell residents, to institute a Home Alert Project.

THIS PARTICULAR program would need the cooperation of all neighbors to keep watch on each others' property and report any strange automobiles or persons in the area that may be suspect. "To make this particular program work, there should be a block captain named to coordinate the daily watch," according to the police officer.

Petitions that were circulated in the area and signed by persons who were displeased with the apparent laxity on the part of the county state's attorney and entire Madison County judicial system were taken to Don Weber, state's attorney and Chief Circuit Judge A.A. Matkoesian a week after the first meeting.

Although the officials could not give the committee a definite answer to demands of stronger prosecution of arrested person in relation to house burglaries, the committee felt they made a step forward in alerting the proper authorities that the residents are displeased with the results after an arrest is made.

Walter "Dick" Sparks, township supervisor, agreed to attend the next meeting to review the proposed police project and said he will notify all township board members of the meeting and request they also attend, according to Mrs. Stefanoff.

DUI ARREST AFTER MISHAP
Randy L. Cochran, 37, of 3900 Gaslight Walk, Pontoon Beach, was arrested at 12:05 a.m. Friday for driving under the influence of alcohol and improper backing. He was released after posting his driver license and $102 bail. Police said they saw his car back against the parked pickup truck of a parking lot at 2409 Lincoln Ave.

Game to offer bags of money

Seven players of the Illinois State Lottery's new "Money Bags" instant game, which goes on sale statewide today, will win bonus prizes worth up to $100,000, in addition to the prizes they win instantly.

Under the supervision of an auditor from Touche Ross & Co., an international accounting firm, the lottery on Thursday packed into seven numbered canvas money bags three of the checks are worth $100,000, and one each is worth $50,000, $25,000, $15,000 and $10,000.

Immediately after the checks were placed in the money bags, the bags were chained shut, locked and removed by Touche Ross for safekeeping.

Michael J. Jones, lottery superintendent, announced that Touche Ross has also randomly selected seven specific days, hours and minutes over the next several weeks. He said a money bags player wins a bonus prize in the following way.

When a player wins either $25, $50 or $100 instantly in the money bags game, the player should take his ticket to his lottery agent, who validates the ticket by phoning the lottery.

If the lottery receives a validation telephone call from the agent at one of the seven specific times selected by Touche Ross, the player wins one of the seven bonus money bags.

The player whose ticket is validated at the first time selected by Touche Ross wins the money bag marked number 1. This procedure continues until all seven money bags have been awarded.

Jones said that when a player wins one of the money bags, the lottery will deliver the bag to the player, and the player will win the amount on the check in the money bag.

He noted that in addition to the bonus prize, players who win $25, $50, or $100 instantly, and validate their tickets, will automatically be entered into a preliminary drawing to win the game's top prize of $1 million, payable at a rate of $50,000 a year for 20 years.

There are also seven instant $100 prizes in the money bags game. Three jacks $25, three tens win $5, three nines win $2, and three eights win a free money bags ticket.

The money bags game replaces the fortune instant game.

Jones added that the money bags instant game prize pool of almost $35 million is the largest of any instant game in lottery history.

Mishap knocks out power at Venice PD

An Illinois Power work crew restored electrical service about 2:45 p.m. Sunday in the area of the Venice Police Department, where an early morning accident involving a damaged utility pole cut power to the department and adjacent dwellings.

Business continued more or less as usual during the morning at police headquarters, which was being served with power from an emergency generator installed by members of the Venice Volunteer Fire Department.

Power was cut off at 5:35 a.m. Sunday when a vehicle operated by Lavander L. Green 20, of 1207 Market St., Madison, struck a utility pole at 1223 Klein St., Venice. Green, who was not reported injured in the crash, was charged with driving with a suspended license.

REPORTS AUTO BURGLARY

Summer research fellowships announced

The Office of Graduate Studies and Research at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville has announced the seventh Summer Research Fellowship program for SIUE faculty members. According to Dean Vaughn Lindsay, the vice president and provost is providing $100,000 for two types of awards. Having two types of fellowships is different than past competitions, where only one type was given, she said.

The first type of award will provide up to 30 summer research fellowships, each in the amount of $3,000. They will be awarded to faculty members who agree to devote three months to their proposed research projects. These recipients may not accept other remunerative assignments during the fellowship term.

THE SECOND TYPE will allow up to 10 summer "mini-grants," each in the amount of $1,000. These "mini-grants" will be made to faculty members who propose to apply such grants to the pursuit of approved research projects. These recipients are not restricted from obtaining other employment or support.

All SIUE full-time faculty members on continuing appointments may apply for fellowships. However, a researcher cannot receive both a Research Scholar Award and a Summer Research Fellowship in the same year. Previous Summer Research Fellows are eligible to apply again if they have submitted the final reports on their previous projects. Also, any researcher who sits on his/her school's research committee and submits a proposal should not serve on that committee for the purpose of reviewing Summer Research Fellowship proposals, Dean Lindsay said.

GCC sponsors series of athletic events

Granite City Center (GCC) will be hosting a series of intramural activities for students of the college in the near future. Activities will include basketball, volleyball, football, floor hockey and walk-runs.

The first of these scheduled events is the Turkey Trot Race. This event, which will begin at 2 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 23, at the college's track, will feature entrants who will try to accurately predict the amount of time it will take them to complete a one- or two-mile run.

INTRAMURAL T-SHIRTS will be given to those coming closest to their estimated time and also to the man and woman who complete the race in the fastest time. The top prize of a turkey will be given to the fastest participant. Entrants may register in the intramural office or at the track on the day of the race.

The next event coming to GCC is a floor hockey league, which will begin play on Tuesday, Nov. 29. Those wishing to participate should get together a team of six players and sign up in the intramural office. Four teams will be allowed in the league. Intramural T-Shirts will be given to the winning team.

Another scheduled event is a five-man basketball tournament, slated for Monday, Dec. 5. After the tournament, a basketball league will be formed for second semester play. There is no limit to the number of teams accepted in the league.

JIM O'DELL, wrestling coach at GCC, said that several other intramural events are under consideration for the college. Among these is a mat football tournament, where players attempt to score, playing football on their knees.

"This is usually a one-day tournament, and it's a lot of fun for everyone because there usually are no injuries to the players," said O'Dell. "Lots of times, the teams will consist of athletes that play on the various sports teams at the college, so it can be quite competitive."

He also said he hopes to schedule a volleyball tournament for the second semester, as well as another aerobic class and a "spring fling." The spring fling would be something on the order of the Monster Mash Bash that was held recently at the college. It'll be modeled after an event that is held at the University of Indiana.

"WE'VE BEEN getting a lot of participation from the students for these intramural events, so we're very pleased."

O'Dell said students also are being encouraged to use the gym facilities for free play and weightlifting from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. daily. For further information about any of the intramural activities, interested persons may contact O'Dell or Larry Petri in the administrative office at GCC at 931-0600.

BAC cheerleaders received national honors at camp

The Spirit Award was presented to the cheerleaders on behalf of the NCA. They were selected for this award on the basis of their cheerleading ability, technique, unity, friendliness, cooperation, leadership and sportsmanship to the other squads attending.

IN ADDITION to the Spirit Award, the squad also received a Spirit Stick Award for their display of outstanding spirit throughout the clinic and three Superior Ribbons for cheers and a dance routine performed for evaluation.

ASTONISHING NEAL won't be driving a race car at 100 m.p.h. while blindfolded when he appears at Belleville Area College, Tuesday, Nov. 22. But the parapsychic who performed that feat for "You Ask For It" will astound an audience with his other feats of psychic power.

His past performances have included demonstrations of ESP and hypnosis, the bending of nails and keys, and telekinesis. Audience participation is a vital part of the Astonishing Neal's show. Not only does he correctly identify objects held in audience member's hands, but he brings several hypnotized subjects to the stage during the show.

The performance, which is free to the public, will begin at 7 p.m. in the theater at Belleville Area College, 2500 Carlyle Road, Belleville.

SCROOGE WILL BE coming to Belleville Area College for Christmas next month. Ebenezer Scrooge is the main character in "A Christmas Carol," a stage adaptation of Dickens' famous novel.

The story deals with the miserly Scrooge and his "bah, humbug" attitude toward Christmas. Watch as the ghosts of Christmas Past, Christmas Present and Christmas Future lead Scrooge to share the warmth of the crippled Tiny Tim and the entire Cratchit family.

The performance will take place Thursday, Dec. 1, at 7:30 p.m. in the theater at the main campus, 2500 Carlyle Road, Belleville. There is no charge for the show. The presentation is being sponsored by Student Activities.

SIU at Edwardsville

The fair, sponsored by the University's Craft and Graphics Shop, will be in the Goshen Lounge of the University Center from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. On Thursday, Dec. 1, the fair will be extended to 8 p.m. for those who cannot attend during the day hours.

Port begins served from 1959 through his death in 1983, and Mr. Hartman served on the board from 1959 through 1982.

THE GROWTH of the port from a one-customer facility to its current status with eight tenants employing 125 persons and the potential for rapid growth and a second harbor, were discussed by Robertson, who recalled approval of the port's first bond issue for $750,000 at five percent interest for 40 years.

In 1969, the lease with the first client, Bulk Services, was signed. Later, the port purchased the Bi-State docks for $730,000, paying $73,000 a year for 10 years, interest free. "That deal established us as the port district on this side of the river," Robertson recalled.

Subsequent additions included a $2,750,000 bulk loading facility, the addition of the Apex Oil facilities and I.H. Joseph pellet plant, a new $500,000 port office building and, in 1977, the designation of part of the port and a warehouse nearby as Foreign Trade Zone 31, which enables customers to import items duty-free until they leave the zone, thus improving cash flow for businesses.

IN 1983, the Chrysler assembly plant in Fenton was designated a Foreign Trade Subzone, 31A, and recently the former Chrysler truck plant reopened to produce Chrysler New Yorkers, also within a trade zone.

Recently, the port received an $85,000 Economic Development Administration (EDA) grant for track and rail improvements, and the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers has given its approval to building a second $24 million harbor just north of the current port on the Chain of Rocks Canal.

"These are the signs of the dedication of men, who, without salary, served to make the port possible," Robertson said.

TODAY, the port operates within 5,000 feet of harbor space and handled in excess of three million tons of product last year. That compares to only 133,645 tons in 1969, Ranft told the gathering.

Slightly more than 2,000 barges, 1,000 trucks and approximately 30,000 rail cars were loaded or unloaded last year at the port. The port now owns two bulk conveyor systems, approximately five miles of rail track, two 70-foot truck scales and a new 8,000-square-foot office building.

The port leases office space to International Minerals & Chemicals and Bulk Service Corp. It also owns its own water lines, maintenance shop and many docks, including the former Bi-State docks.

THERE ARE eight full-time port employees and the total investment in the port district is approximately $30 million, of which $25 million is private capital. Another $4 million will be invested by private businesses next year, Ranft said.

About 70 percent of the product moving through the port is for export. According to a government formula, that volume accounts for 3,500 jobs in the Midwest.

"The success of the Tri-City Regional Port District has been due to its excellent location and the hard work of many people. No one person was responsible. We have been fortunate in having good board members with business experience. We also have had the help of the city administrators (Granite City, Madison and Venice)."

"WE HAVE been most fortunate in having understanding and hard-sold state legislators, coupled with a dedicated staff. This has been our formula for a successful port operation," Ranft said.

A slide show was presented on the many offerings of the port, including central location, good transportation systems, equipment capable of handling cargo rapidly and to store it properly and many other advantages.

Honored in addition to the original board members were former and present board members, with their terms in parenthesis, John Belkoff (1963 through 1986), Walter "Buck" Simmons (1965-1977 and 1980-1986), Don Partney Jr. (1965-1968), Bill Harris (1968-1986) and Carl Mathias (1968-1974).

Also, Homer Huber (1969-1985), Harold Hillmer (1968-1974), Avery Schermer (1973-1977), Von Dee Cruse (1974-1977), Burton Bernard (1975-1978), Clyde "Bus" Boyd (1974-1977), the late William "Mike" Eber (1977-1981), Lance Callis (1977-1980), Dale Arnett (1978-1984), the late Herb Bischoff (1978-1981), Howard Silius (1983-1986), Kent Holsinger (1982-1984) and the newest member, Mel Wilmmsmeyer (1983-1986).

Pay cuts

tions were conducted throughout the previous weekend as the union sought to understand and respond to the company's proposal by mid-week. Consolidated said set Friday, Nov. 18, as the deadline for a reply.

Buddy W. Davis, the union's district director, said last week that his analysis of the company's requested work rule, pay and benefit revisions showed that they amounted to a cut of up to 40 percent.

Taking into account such factors as job combinations, the reduction totaled $5.50 hourly. Means said.

Aluminum division employees of the plant, which has seen a downturn in employment and production in the past several years, are reported to earn $11 to $16 hourly. The aluminum industry is experiencing a worldwide recession.

THE PLAN for the substantial pay cut was turned down at a meeting held at the American Legion building in Fairmont City.

Means stressed the group's willingness to take part in further talks, but so far the company has indicated that the matter is virtually closed.

Some of the workers said they felt the proposal was structured so severely that it in effect invited and assured a rejection. There is pessimism also about the magnesium outlook but it was not a part of last week's discussions.

"The company asked for far too much in too short a period of time," Means commented while saying that the aluminum staff is still receptive to lesser contract changes. The desire for further talks was voiced in a letter to Consolidated.

HENDRICKS SAID said the company has begun the task of closing the aluminum area of the plant. "We will honor all our commitments, but that's it," he related.

Total employment is said to be between 300 and 400, divided about evenly between aluminum and magnesium.

Initially known as Standard Steel Springs, the plant was sold in the late 1940s to Dow Chemical Co., which installed huge magnesium extrusion equipment.

Use of that metal did not become as widespread as Dow had hoped, and aluminum production was used to supplement the magnesium work.

PHILIPS-DODGE later acquired the plant and there was a merger in 1971 with Consolidated. Philips-Dodge retained a 40 percent share of the local ownership but sold that to Consolidated in 1980.

Consolidated is owned by Alusuisse of America, part of the Swiss conglomerate, Alusuisse Group. Its overall aluminum production is regarded as comparable in size to that of Reynolds, Alcoa and Kaiser.

Access to the 119-acre site is through North Venice, at College and Weaver streets, but the bulk of the property is in the City of Madison as well as the Madison school district. For years, the plant was a

His past performances have included demonstrations of ESP and hypnosis, the bending of nails and keys, and telekinesis.

Audience participation is a vital part of his show. The highlight of the evening is when he brings hypnotized audience members to the stage, then plants suggestions in their minds and the rest of the audience watches as the hypnotized members "become" Martini TV characters and washing machines.

Astonishing Neal holds a bachelor of science degree in psychology from Penn State University and worked for several years at the Pentagon in Washington, D.C.

The performance, which is free to the public, will begin at 7 p.m. in theater at Belleville Area College, 2500 Carlyle Road, Belleville.

by U.S. District Judge Clyde Cahill because DeVilliers has resigned himself from the case, presumably to attend to the ailing family member.

Brimberry's other attorney, Lawrence Fleming of St. Louis, will continue to serve in his defense, and another attorney will take DeVilliers' place in March.

Brimberry was convicted in June on two counts of obstructing justice during the federal investigation into the brokerage of false securities at the brokerage. The jury in his Alton trial found him guilty of telling Jerry Meares and Arthur Miller Jr. to destroy records pertaining to fictitious accounts the trio had created at the firm.

Brimberry was sentenced to 10 years imprisonment as a result of that trial.

He has been in the St. Clair County Jail awaiting trial, but was taken by the U.S. Marshal's Service, Wednesday to the federal penitentiary in Terre Haute, Ind.

Sewer repair work to begin

By GEORGEANN MCGEE

Granite City residents who have had to cope for months with temporary sanitary sewer bypass pumping stations may finally see repair work begin on at least one break by the end of month.

Mayor Paul Schuler called a special council meeting Tuesday to tell aldermen that an unexpectedly low bid to repair nine of the city's 22 sewer breaks had been received.

The inability of the city to finance the repairs and the reluctance of the federal government to assist with the funding have delayed repair work since December.

Work will start at the 3204 Aubrey Ave. break and then proceed one break at a time to save on costs of the expensive dewatering equipment needed to prepare the construction sites. Many sewer lines lay below the city's high groundwater table.

The second and third sites set for repairs are the break at 1608 Lindell Blvd. and the one at 3301 Pebling Road. Other sites to be covered by the low bid are 3506 Terrace Lane, 1506 and 1611 Garfield Ave., 12 Terrace Lane, 3200 Maryville Road and 2509 National Ave.

The $426,876 low bid was submitted by A. J. Davinroy Contractors, Inc., East St. Louis. The bid was lower than any others submitted in a previous bid round, rejected by the federal funding officials as too high.

City officials had presumed further bidding would only produce higher prices. The city had then launched a successful campaign to attract additional bidders. Davinroy had not submitted a bid in the first round.

The mayor said federal written acceptance of the Davinroy bid has not yet been received, but he said a Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) officer approved the bid in a telephone conversation.

Schuler told the council that the city has, however, been officially informed by FEMA that the agency will not fund sewer breaks here that occurred in December and January.

The city had been delaying work at those sites until FEMA made a final ruling on those sites.

The breaks will now be financed through the $300,000 Jobs Bill Community Development funds received earlier this year. Repairs will begin at those sites, where the earliest breaks occurred, as soon as the city's engineering department can prepare bid specifications. Those breaks are located at 2823 Lincoln and 2548 Boyle avenues, 2821 E. 23rd St. and in the 2700 block of Faith Avenue. The Aubrey Avenue break also will be funded by Jobs Bill funds, rather than the FEMA grant.

The city can not yet determine whether or not the various grants will be sufficient to cover the costs of repairing all the sewer breaks.

The city council last week approved the hiring of temporary sewer inspector Matt J. Ozanich, 3225 Lydia Lane, to monitor the repair work.

His salary will come from the Jobs Bill funds intended to help alleviate unemployment.

The city previously hired four additional temporary employees to assist with repairs. They are Gary Withers, 2540 Parkway Drive; Emmett Joe Williams, 2030 Bryan Ave.; Glen E. Romine, 2332 Lynch Ave.; and Randall Sigle Jr., 1737 Chestnut St.

Caution is urged on roads during holiday

Thanksgiving 1983, the first major holiday of the winter season, will soon be here. Many people will be traveling "over the rivers and through the woods" on Illinois highways to be with friends and loved ones. Some will never arrive and others will never return.

During the month of October, 152 persons did not arrive or return because of traffic fatalities on Illinois highways. So far this year 1,299 persons have needlessly lost their lives because of traffic accidents, a decrease of 100 over the same period last year.

In State Police District 11, eleven persons were killed during October 1983 compared to seven during October 1982. Bond County recorded one fatality. Clinton County one, St.

Clair County three, Madison County six and Monroe County none.

Captain Bobby L. Henry Sr., commander of State Police District 11 is urging all motorists to drive with extreme caution during the winter months and holiday seasons. Motorists should be alert for winter driving hazards—ice, snow, sleet and slippery pavements, especially bridge deck which always freeze first and thaw last.

Since alcohol is the leading cause of fatal car accidents, Capt. Henry also cautions drivers not to drink excessively before driving. Seatbelts and child restraint devices should also be used.

"Remember, the only way to remain the driver is to stay behind the wheel, and the only way to stay behind the wheel in a crash is to wear your seatbelt. Make the last belt for the road your seatbelt," he advises.

Continued dialogue by Illinois, Japan

The first meeting of the newly formed Illinois-Japan Economic Council has been held in Tokyo. Attending were members of the Japan Midwest Association from Illinois and several representatives of Illinois businesses, state and local government and Japanese business leaders.

The council was organized this year by Gov. James R. Thompson to strengthen trade and investment relationships between Japan and Illinois.

"The first meeting established an open forum to exchange ideas and opinions frankly on issues related to U.S.-Japan trade and investment. Only through such discussions can we make real headway in pursuing the mutual goal of economic growth of both Japan and Illinois," said Michael R. Woolf, director of the Department of Commerce and Community Affairs.

The gathering introduced several of Illinois' industrial cities and agricultural areas to the Japanese representatives. It was decided a joint meeting will be held at least once a year.

PRESS-RECORD

BAC is too much for Stars, Dutchmen crunch GCC, 99-79

By ROGER KRAMER
of the Press-Record
BELLEVILLE — For 15 minutes, the Granite City Center basketball team was living in a fantasy world. For 15 minutes, Granite City Center, a first year junior college, held its inter-district rival, Belleville Area College, to only a one point lead. In fact, the Stars held a one point advantage for a few fleeting moments Thursday night.

However, the fantasy ended for the Stars almost as quickly as it began. The established and experienced BAC team finally figured out the weaknesses of its sister school. The Dutchmen pulled out a 99-79 victory in a non-conference game at BAC.

"We did a hell of a job for the first 15 minutes," said GCC Coach Larry Graham. "It really surprised me that we were able to stay with them for 15 minutes. If we would have had some good ball handlers, it could have been a different game."

Indeed, it was the inability of the Stars to hang on the ball which eventually led to their first loss of the season. Guard Kerwin Stanley, who Graham expected to be a point guard, is ineligible for the time being. Forwards Archie Gardner and Patrick Hatter, two other players who were expected to help the Stars, were also ineligible.

On the other hand, guards Carvell Claggett and Marc Parker didn't have experience at point guard, but the duo had to share those duties throughout the game.

"We looked disorganized out there. We lost our point guard, and we don't have a natural point guard to get the ball down the court. I'm not making any excuses though because every junior college goes through the same thing," Graham said.

The Stars didn't believe that they couldn't play without a natural point guard. For the first 15 minutes of the game, they almost convinced observers they could stay with the best of them.

Claggett and Parker handled the guard duties well, and Claggett helped out even more by scoring nine points in the first half. When Claggett wasn't keeping up with the Dutchmen, the others did. GCC matched the Dutchmen basket-for-basket the first 15 minutes.

The Stars actually took the lead late in the half. BAC took a 39-25 lead, but Granite City South product Pat Linhart scored to cut the lead to three. Young cut the lead back to one second later. A BAC turnover then allowed Claggett to score the go-ahead basket with 6:14 left in the half.

Once GCC took the 31-30 lead, the fantasy ended. The Dutchmen, realizing they could lose if they didn't try harder, made life miserable for the Stars. By halftime, BAC was ahead 54-38.

In the final five minutes of the half, Keith Kiner, a BAC freshman from Michigan City, Ind., scored eight points. For the game, Kiner ended up with 20 points to lead a balanced BAC scoring attack.

Meanwhile, the Stars were outscored 24-8 in the final five minutes of the half.

But, it was fun while it lasted.

"Their defense was causing us some severe problems. We made some outstanding shots, and those shots weren't easy. We just couldn't keep making those shots all night," Graham said.

"I'm encouraged by what I saw the first 15 minutes of the game. We have so far to go, but I know we have a pretty good season with the guys we have. If we can get some of the other people to come back, we'll be all right," Graham said.

The second half was a continuation of what BAC did in the waning minute of the first half. By the time the half was halfway over, the Dutchmen were ahead by 30 points. The Stars managed to cut the lead by 20 in the last four minutes of the game, but it wasn't enough.

Despite the decisiveness of the victory, BAC Coach Jay Harrington wasn't impressed by the victory.

"I was very discouraged by what I saw. We gave up 77 points, and defense was supposed to be something we were going to do well. We shot outside shots with a team that was much shorter than us. I hate to see us against people with 6-7, 6-8 and 6-10 players," Harrington said.

Granite City is supposed to be outmanned compared to us, but the coach has done a heck of a job with what he's got. I don't mean to put Granite City down, but we didn't take the ball to them like we should have," Harrington added.

Claggett led the way for the Stars with 18 points. Young put in 14 points, Parker scored 13 points, and Tim Adams added 10 points for the Stars, now 1-1 for the season.

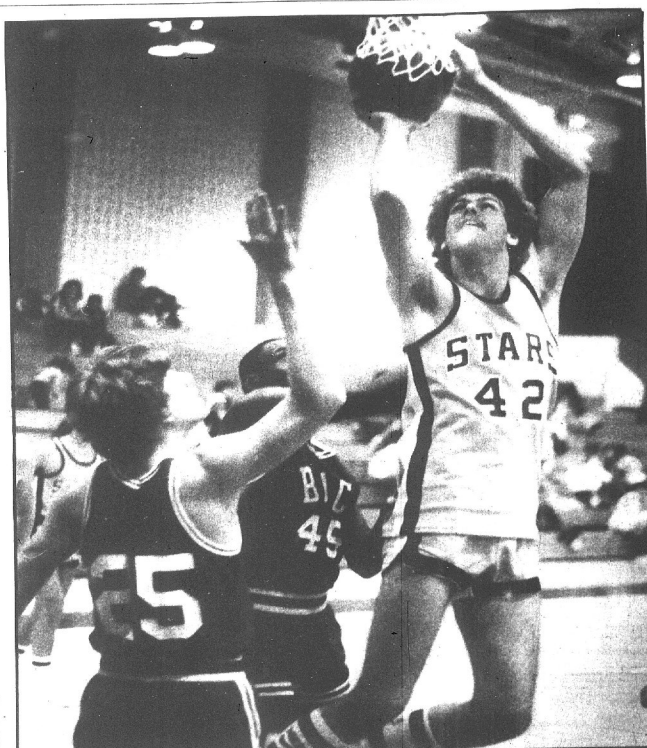

The Stars' next game is Wednesday, a 7:30 p.m. battle at Lincoln Land Community College of Springfield, Ill. The first game for the Stars is Dec. 1, a non-conference game with Kaskaskia.

Hayes' birthday present: SLU topples EIU, 2-1

By ROGER KRAMER
of the Press-Record
CHARLESTON — St. Louis University forward Tom Hayes could not have found a better way to celebrate his 20th birthday than he did Sunday.

In three previous meetings with Eastern Illinois University, Hayes and the Billikens were unable to score against the Panthers. However, Hayes, made up for the drought Sunday in the championship game of the NCAA Midwest Regional held at Eastern.

Hayes broke Eastern's shutout streak approximately 20 minutes into the match. If that wasn't enough, he scored the winning goal early in the second half. Despite Eastern's comeback attempt late in the game, the Billikens held on to win 2-1 and advance to the NCAA quarterfinals.

The Billikens' opponent and the time, date and location of the quarterfinal game has not been set as yet.

Hayes, needless to say, was happy with his birthdays presents — the goals and the regional championship. However, all the Billikens were expected Sunday was to play a respectable game.

"Yes, it was three times we weren't able to score on them since 1981," Hayes said. "We merely wanted to score against them and try to get out of here with the win."

"So far, it's the most significant game I've been in. We just wanted to get out and play, and it was great that we beat them. It's great to be able to beat a team with the talent of Eastern."

Hayes scored 18 goals and 7 assists this season, and nine of those goals have been game winners. Hayes couldn't have picked a better time to pick up another game winner.

Hayes' game-winner was by all means a present. A pass from Billiken forward Steve Maurer deflected off an Eastern player to Hayes. Eastern goalkeeper Eric Hartman charged up on Hayes to cut the angle of the shot, but Hayes found a weakness and kicked it 20 yards past Hartman for the goal.

"I couldn't tell if he just froze, but he was at my right when I shot the goal. He cut down the angle, but I was the opening and decided to shoot it. I thought he had played it right, but somehow, I was able to make it," Hayes said.

Eastern Coach Schellus Hyndman, however, thought Hartman should have been able to make the save.

"You hate to see a goal scored on a mistake," Hyndman said. "His first goal was an excellent goal, but I thought the second one was a mistake. I thought he could have made the save."

Indeed, the first goal was the better executed of the two goals. Hayes took a cross pass from Paul Beaudoin in the middle and fired the shot in for the goal.

Hayes almost scored a third goal later in the second half. Hartman committed himself to stop Hayes outside the penalty area, and Hayes went around him and had an open shot of the goal. Instead of dribbling it to the goal, Hayes shot from 20 yards to the left of the goal. Eastern's Greg Mellor made a sliding save about six feet from the goal, and kicked it out of bounds.

It was fortunate for the Billikens Hayes scored the two he did because Eastern made an attempt to come back. With only 3:15 left in the game, Eastern forward Damien Kelly headed a corner kick from back Kevin Kyle for the goal.

The Panthers made a desperate attempt to tie the game in the final moments, but Billiken goalkeeper Pat Baker was up to the challenge and preserved the victory.

"St. Louis simply played better than we did," Hyndman said. "They played the game they wanted to, and we couldn't because of the field conditions."

The field was still muddy from Saturday's rains which hit the Eastern campus. The field slowed down the Eastern game substantially.

Even though Billiken forward Dave Fernandez, a product of Granite City South, suffered a bruised ankle in the first half and sat out the second half, the Billikens played their game plan perfectly.

The Billikens used the long ball to get the ball down field to by-pass the superior Eastern midfield. In addition to the midfielders, the Billikens kept the ball away from forwards Aygeman Premph and Neil Swindells.

"I think we defeated a very good soccer team today," Billiken Coach Joe Clarke said. "In certain areas, Eastern was the better team. We steered the ball around the players who could hurt us, and Eastern couldn't move the ball quickly like they're capable of doing."

"This is the most important games we've won since I've taken over. It's great that we could beat a team of Eastern's ability," Clarke said.

FERNANDEZ

For Fernandez, DeRousse Sunday's Midwest Regional soccer game is disappointing

CHARLESTON — Sunday's NCAA Midwest Regional final between St. Louis University and Eastern Illinois University wasn't the best game Granite City South products Dave Fernandez and Randy DeRousse ever had.

Fernandez received a bruised ankle in the first half while going for a ball and sat out the entire second half. X-rays taken at St. Louis University Hospital showed no other serious injuries.

At least Fernandez will have another chance to play this season. The junior should be deflected from the bruise before the NCAA quarterfinal game. That date of that game has not been scheduled yet.

DeRousse, on the other hand, will never have another chance at the NCAA title. The senior back played in his final game. Considering that Eastern was heavily favored to advance to the quarterfinals, DeRousse was disappointed about the loss.

"Sure, I was disappointed," said DeRousse, a four-year letterman at Eastern. "We simply couldn't move the ball like we should have. We couldn't spread the game out, and everytime St. Louis had the ball, they tried the long kick to try to catch off guard."

In 1981, Eastern finished third in the nation, but the Panthers were upset in an opening round game last year.

DeRousse's goal now is to complete the requirements for his physical education major. DeRousse isn't certain whether he would try out for a professional soccer team after he finishes at Eastern.

Robbie Mann, a junior for the Panthers and a South graduate, did not play in Sunday's game.

Basketball Preview

Trojans hoping to rebound after 2-29 season

By ROGER KRAMER
of the Press-Record

MADISON — The question going through the minds of many area basketball fans is this: Can Larry Graham handle two head coaching jobs this year?

Graham, who has led the Madison Trojans to two state championships and numerous regional and sectional titles, is still coaching the Trojans. At the same time, Graham will coach the Granite City Center basketball team. Graham is the first to admit the assignment is much harder than he thought it would be.

Graham, who shared coaching duties at Madison and Parks Air College at one time, noted the GCC assignment required him to do some things he hadn't tried before.

"It's tougher than I thought it would be at first because I've had to do a lot of paperwork that I hadn't done before. It's kind of like being a counselor because you have to help the players fill out financial forms and help them register for classes. It took a lot more work because it (GCC) is a new college," Graham said.

Fortunately for Graham, he has three capable assistants, David Hodges and Marcus Spraggins at Madison and Keith McFarland at GCC, to ease the workload. The fact most of the Madison practices are after school, and GCC's practices are in the evening or on weekends also makes Graham's job a little less difficult.

The fact that Graham knows who his "Super Six" at Madison will be also eases his worries. The only problem is that only two of the Super Six were starters for the Trojans last year.

Last season, the Trojans finished the season with a 26-5 season after losing to eventual Class A state champion Lawrenceville 62-48 in the Super-sectional game. However, all but two of the games were forfeited in September because forward Terry Hamilton was ruled ineligible. Victor Valentine, a 5-10 senior guard, and Michael Young, a 6-0 senior guard, are the only two returning starters for the Trojans.

Valentine is expected to be the point guard for the Trojans, while Young will supplement him with outside shooting.

The other members of the Super Six are 6-2 senior center Joe Crowder, 6-1 junior forward Jimmy Bennett, 6-3 junior forward Reggie Banks and 6-1 junior guard-forward DeLloyd Williams.

Although those six players are supposed to carry the Trojans this year, Graham is somewhat concerned about their appearance in practice.

"Last year's team had the chemistry even though it wasn't the most talented team we've had here," Graham said. "I don't know if this year's team has that chemistry yet. We have to learn how to get along together on the court, but I think that will change when we get a few wins under our belt."

"It may take a little while to get the boys together, but I think a little bit of camaraderie will be created by some victories," Graham said. Other Trojans who could see some playing time this year include juniors Anthony Sheppard, Anthony Newsom and Jamie Newsom. Cedric Wilson, a senior sidelined with a shoulder separation, could see some action later in the season.

"Valentine and Young are the only two players we have with a lot of varsity experience. They're going to be the ones to pull all the team together. I'm sure we'll get better this season," Graham said.

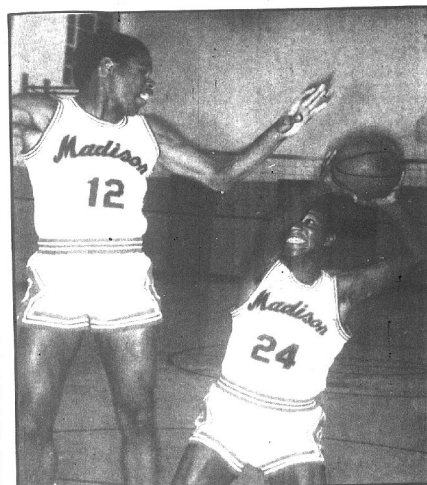

Although the Trojans are slim in size and experience, they are thick in speed. The Trojans' press should be as effective this year as in the past. In addition, this year's team is one of the smartest teams Graham's had. All of the Solid Six are maintaining C or better grade point averages, Graham said.

Once again, the Trojan schedule is tough. The Trojans open the season Tuesday against Lovejoy, the team the Trojans defeated in the regional championship game last year. Although the Wildcats are without 6-11 All-American Barry Sumpter, the Wildcats still should be tough.

Also included on the schedule are Bunker Hill, a team which Madison defeated in overtime at the Vandalia Sectional, Granite City, East St. Louis, Venice, Hillshoro and several St. Louis area schools. The Trojans will be the only Class A school in the Centralia Holiday Tournament and are entered in the Litchfield Tournament this season.

Advance tickets for Trojan debut on sale Tuesday

Tickets for the Madison-Lovejoy high school basketball game at Madison Tuesday night will go on sale tomorrow at 7:30 a.m. at Madison High School. If all of the tickets are sold in the morning, no tickets will be available at the game. Persons may buy a maximum of five tickets for the game. A limited number of tickets were reserved for Lovejoy High School.

RETURNING STARTERS. Michael Young, left, attempts to block a shot by Victor Valentine during a recent Madison High School basketball practice. Young and Valentine are the two returning starters for the Trojans this year, and they will be part of Coach Larry Graham's "Solid Six" this year.

McFarland: GCC first year will be difficult

by PAULA WISE
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — Keith McFarland, coach of the Granite City Center Stars women's basketball team, has two difficult problems to deal with this week.

First, McFarland must cope with the first game jitters that will be facing his basketball players Tuesday night as they open their season against Lincoln College.

Second, McFarland must deal with a severe shortage of players. The Stars will open their season with only six players.

The team will consist of entirely of local women.

Laura Harper, Ruth Jacks, Phyllis Harper and Juliet Stanley of Madison will be combined with Kim Fountain and Terri Schuler of Granite City to round out the Stars lineup.

Despite the lack of players, Coach

McFarland does see some bright points on his team.

"We have a big team who is also physical," stated McFarland. "Our main offensive strategy will be for the guards to get the ball in to Ruthie Jacks," he added.

Coach McFarland felt that Jacks and Schuler will be his team's main scoring threats.

McFarland felt his team's main weakness will be lack of ball players as well as his team's physical condition.

"We have had very little practice time so the girls are not in very good condition. This will be a problem since we have so few ball players," stated McFarland.

"With the girls' size we will also have a very slow team," he added. McFarland looks for this season to be a learning experience for his players.

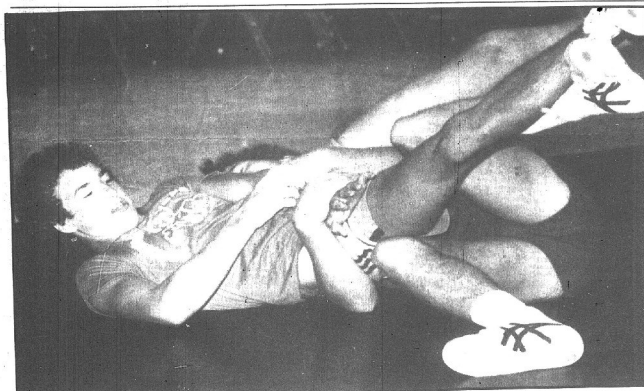

"There is less pressure since no one is expecting us to win," stated McFarland. "I'm just ready to get the season started and get our feet wet."

McFarland is still recruiting ball players for the second semester. Since most of the Stars' ball games will take place in the second semester he is hoping to fill out his squad by then.

The Stars' schedule will include such teams as Parkland, East Central and Lewis and Clark, the latter two of which are members of the Midwest Junior College Athletic Conference.

"East Central should be a very tough team, but since we are going to be in the same conference next year, I felt we should schedule them this season for the experience," said McFarland.

The Stars' home opener Tuesday will begin at 5 p.m.

GCC GRAPPLERS. The Granite City Center wrestling team makes its home debut Tuesday, Nov. 22, against Forest Park Community College. GCC will take on Forest Park at 7:30 p.m. in the gymnasium. During the weekend, the team competed in the talent-riddled St. Louis Open. For GCC Scott Corey, 167 pounds, advanced the farthest, to the semi-finals. Corey, above and partially hidden, practices with teammate Colin Davis, 118 pounds, also of Granite City.

Cage team vacancies

The two divisions, the best of men's competition, play at each Coolidge, Grigsby and what used to be Prather Junior High Schools. League competition consists of 12-game schedules which begin on Nov. 28. The team fee is $125.

Persons wishing to register teams should contact John Lakin at the Wilson Park office at 877-3059 during business hours.

Project Help gives hope but needs a helping hand, too

By GEORGEANN MCGEE
of the Press-Record

George Cook, director of Project Help, said the community has contributed generously to the food program for the unemployed, but a need still exists that must be filled.

"It's not over," Cook said, referring to the problems faced by unemployed in the Quad-City Area. In fact, the director said, many now have begun their most acute struggle as they cope with exhausted benefits or depleted savings as the result of long-term layoffs and unemployment. As an example, last month the program assisted 161 members from Local 1063 of the closed American Steel Foundries in Granite City.

Next Monday will be the first anniversary of the indefinite closing of the plant. About 650 employees were laid off after a lengthy period of sporadic employment. Approximately 1,100 workers had been previously laid off there.

About 50 percent of the former 340 work force of Taracorp, Inc., also are on layoff status with no obvious hope for a callback.

The unemployment situation, however, has eased slightly at Granite City Steel Division, Cook said, whose private organization works directly with out-of-work union members, church members that are unemployed and those workers referred through the local Metropolitan Re-employment Project.

Meanwhile, Project Help funds have dipped to $2,500 — an amount less than the value of food distributed each month. In October, the program served 243 families, representing 891 people, and distributed $5,677 worth of food.

The program has served 970 applicants, or 3,685 individuals, since it began in March. The project distributed food worth a total of $18,501 through September.

The food distribution program survives through voluntary contributions raised by plant gate collections, church and union donations and funds contributed by civic organizations, businesses and individuals. Money also has come from companies that have laid off employees. Project Help relies solely on these free-will donations.

Cook said union members and their families donate their time to pack and give out food to their fellow workers. The Protestant Welfare Association provides storage space and coordinates distribution.

Cook, AFL-CIO Community Services representative to United Way, is not paid a salary for his Project Help work, nor are any other program workers paid for their efforts.

According to a Project Help brochure, the tradition of American people working together to help one another in time of crisis is part of our heritage.

The program now is appealing to that sense of tradition in this community to continue meeting its goal of assistance.

Food contributions may be delivered to the Protestant Welfare Association, 2053 Edison Ave., or may be picked up by calling 876-8770. Cash donations may be sent to Project Help, Tri-Cities Area United Way, 2100 Edison Ave., Granite City Ill., 62040, or Project Help, Church Women United, 2100 Lindell Blvd., Granite City, Ill., 62040.

Davis issues statement on school attendance

B. J. Davis, superintendent of the Granite City School District, recently issued a statement outlining the importance of school attendance for students. The statement reads as follows:

"The school administration has long recognized the importance of regular school attendance as one of the most important habits that a student may develop for success, not only in school, but in the world of work later in life.

"However, regular school attendance must be fostered by the parents, the schools, and the entire community, as well as the student accepting responsibility in his life to attend school to learn about his culture and to develop skills to enable him to get a job.

"The government of our city recently expressed its concern for some students who are not able, for whatever reason, to make themselves regularly attend school, by passing a city ordinance which has been published in the paper at an earlier date. This ordinance has the potential of filing a complaint against a parent for their child's irregular attendance.

"If found guilty, a fine could be incurred. Every community resource which the student may need will be explored first. The goal of the school administration is to offer the students the education they deserve.

"Elementary school children who miss a great number of days of school, usually miss part of the foundation of their basics in reading and math. Eventually, each day they become more discouraged because they are now behind all of their friends. They experience the feeling that they are running a race, but they started it 100 yards behind everyone else.

"At this point, the schools, especially the parents, and the community will need to help the student catch up and also help the student develop habits of regular attendance in school. The habit of regular attendance may be the single most important job skill that a student learns in his school years.

"On the high school level, when a student develops poor habits of attendance, he usually begins to think of dropping out of school. At a different time in history, a student could drop out of school and still have some job opportunities.

"However, in our present economic climate, a student without a high school diploma has a nearly impossible task in finding a job.

Many of these students then become a community problem with nothing constructive to do with their time and energy.

"The administration of the school system wants to keep them in school
